To celebrate the release of:

24th July 2014

Book 1a: We Go to the Gallery

Dung Beetle Books will be holding an after school educational event for teachers, parents and seedy journalists in class 3J at Soho Parish Primary School, 23 Great Windmill Street, London W1D 7LF, from 6pm until 9pm on Thursday August 7th 2014.

Your host Miriam Elia will provide a brief lecture on the three key Dung Beetle learning principles:

- Helping children to understand that there is nothing to understand.
- Ensuring the child's own opinions match those of the arts elite.
- Preparing young people for a lifetime of crippling uncertainty.

Miriam will also read select pages from the new book to an audience in the reading corner, who all must be quietly seated on the mat. Copies of the new book will be available for sale, along with signed prints and rare copies of the original first edition.

There will also be an exhibition of angry paintings, drawings and threatening letters from Penguin Book's team of legal experts.

The school premises are within easy reach of many licensed bars, sex shops and brothels should any attendees seek refreshments either before or after the event. We look forward to making your acquaintance, and you joining us in our mission to make all children think in exactly the same way.

Regards,

Mr C Dunning

Education enforcement officer

The Dung Beetle Educational Books Team, in association with the Cob Gallery.
